

In Vocational Rehabilitation

The demand for qualified professionals is skyrocketing every year.

Scholarships and other financial aid are available for students.

Vocational Rehabilitation Counselors are passionate about their careers.

That's because their specialized knowledge and guidance empower individuals with disabilities to take full charge of their lives and livelihoods. It is deeply satisfying work.

People who have acquired one or more disabilities due to disease, injury or congenital causes were traditionally left with few choices. Today this is not the case.

Vocational rehabilitation empowers people to make informed choices, build viable careers, and live more independently in the community.

Many people with disabilities have themselves chosen to work as vocational rehabilitation professionals.

The impact of vocational rehabilitation has steadily gained momentum since Congress passed the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which was followed by other groundbreaking legislation including the 1990 American With Disabilities Act. Many of the professionals who have contributed to this field since the 1970s are now ready to retire after enjoying long, rewarding careers.

That's where you come in. Prepare to be impassioned by the power to make a significant impact on the quality of many lives, including your own. As a vocational rehabilitation professional, you will know that the goal is empowerment and the bottom line is meaningful employment.

Want to know more?

For information about 17 diverse career choices in the vocational rehabilitation field, order Careers in Vocational Rehabilitation from:

National Clearinghouse of Rehabilitation Training Materials
5202 N. Richmond Hill Drive
Oklahoma State University
Stillwater, OK 74078-4080
Telephone: 405-624-7650
Toll-free: 800-223-5219
TDD: 405-624-3156
FAX: 405-624-0695

Website: www.rehabjobs.org

Careers in Vocational Rehabilitation

Where demand for qualified professionals is high and personal satisfaction runs deep.

Make a Difference!

Empower others to reach their potential while achieving your own.

Careers in Vocational Rehabilitation

Vocational Rehabilitation

is emerging as the hot career choice for high-energy people who want to be creative and independent while they make a very real difference in the lives of others. Newcomers can expect to find a diverse range of opportunities offering competitive salaries and benefits.

Those who work in this field will tell you right up front that vocational rehabilitation is not about disabilities, it's about possibilities.

In short, the goal of vocational rehabilitation is to empower people with disabilities to take full control of their lives and livelihoods, and thus take their rightful place as valued, contributing citizens.

The demand for new professionals is skyrocketing every year.

Achieve your potential while empowering others to achieve theirs.

Work in a creative, compelling, professional environment infused with passion, idealism, and realism.

Enjoy long-term career growth potential with increasingly competitive salaries and benefits.

Choose from a diverse range of professional specialties, including vocational rehabilitation counselor, vocational evaluator, interpreter, orientation and mobility specialist, teacher, administrator, and many others.

Scholarships and other financial aid are available for students

Rehabilitation Counselor
Rehabilitation Teacher for Blind Individuals
Orientation and Mobility Specialist
Vocational Evaluator
Work Adjustment Specialist
Job Development and Placement Specialist
Deafness Rehabilitation Professional
Interpreter for Deaf Individuals
Administrator
Undergraduate Rehabilitation Practitioner
Rehabilitation Psychologist
Physiatrist
Rehabilitation Nurse
Prosthetist-Orthotist
Speech-Language Pathologist
Audiologist

*"If you have a genuine desire to help people you'll love this field.
Real problems are being solved here." — Karla Weaver, Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor*

"We're able to help our clients realize how much potential and how many different options they have." — Stephanie Monroe, Vocational Evaluator

www.rehabjobs.org

